This present time tries families and couples. Believing couples need support. We will gather to enjoy one another's company, light hearted humor, and receive support for our journey of faith. We will gather to listen and take part in the introduction and discussion about forgiveness at home. Home is our first and foremost area of life and it is crucial that forgiveness can prevail there.

We will also enjoy a prepared meal and activities centered on our theme. Come and enjoy life in good company!
